Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back is also evidence of kidney and bladder out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, cures every ailment of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size, by mail, 10 cents. Test it and "out are sure to continue the treatment."

Announcement.
To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for Catarrh of the Nose, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

PHILOSOPHY.

The signs is bad when folks commiserate. A faint fault with Providence. And bask in 'cause the earth don't shake. At every pruncheon stop they take. No man is great till he can see. How less than little he can be. If stripped to self and stark and bare. He hung his sign out anywhere. My delecta is to lay aside. Contentions and to be satisfied. Just do your best, and, praise or blame. That follows, that counts just the same. I've allus noticed great success. Is mixed with troubles more or less. And it's the man who does the best. That gets more kicks than all the rest. —James Whitcomb Riley.

A WARNING TURQUOISE

When Trouble Threatened Its Own, It Turned Pale.

If it had not been that every other bed in the hotel was occupied, I certainly would not have consented to share a double bedded room with a stranger. As it was, I found when we reached a city—a considerable city in Indiana, if the reader's curiosity prompts him to ask about it—that a big political convention was going on there, and that—was how I found my self with Mr. John Speers for a roommate.

Not that there was anything in John

to which I felt inclined to take exception; on the contrary, he struck me as a very neat, prosperous looking and presentable specimen of the American commercial traveler, so much so that I congratulated myself that chance and politics had not thrown me with any one less pleasant.

By the time we both felt ready for bed John and I had become pretty good friends, and I really thought he must have told me all the stories, good,

bad and indifferent, that he had to tell,

but there I was mistaken.

He was making a somewhat elaborate toilet before retiring, that being,

as he told me, indispensable to his getting a good night's rest, and in the course of his ablutions his arms were left entirely bare. Then it was that I noticed his singular decoration.

Half way between the elbow and the shoulder John wore a superb specimen of goldsmith's work. It was a bracelet, in fact, exquisitely chiseled in Persian characters, very massive and containing a turquoise which must have measured, I suppose, two inches one way and an inch and a half the other.

He noticed my astonishment and laughed.

"You never saw a drummer wearing a gold bracelet before?" he said. "No;

it was not given to me by a lady. If it were not so late, I'd tell you all about it."

There was no denying that the hour was rather late to begin another of his stories, so we went to sleep soon

after this, John sleeping with the turquoise and massive gold still on his arm. But next day he told me the story of it.

"The person who gave me that bracelet," he said, "was not a lady,

but very far from it. It was given me by a poor, broken down devil who had sold or pawned everything else to buy drink, but would not part with this while he lived.

"I needn't tell you his name. We met out west, and I had several easy opportunities of giving him a helping hand. But he was one of those cases where a helping hand can't help. The man was utterly broken down by drink.

"When death came—after a magnificent spree, ending in a fight in which a bullet intended for some one else

clipped short the little span of life that drink had left him—he insisted on having me with him, because, he said, I was the only human being left who could care whether he lived or died. Then he said that I must take the bracelet and wear it, just as he had done ever since he got possession of it in Afghanistan in 1878.

"He had been an officer of an Indian of the turquoise deepened again, and he felt himself quite safe.

"But it was after that that he said the turquoise saved him from something that would have been the greatest calamity of his life.

"He was very much in love with a cousin of his, a beautiful girl, said,

who lived in the north of England.

She cared very little for him, as I understood, except as a cousin, though her parents would have been glad to see them marry. Well, he pressed his advantages—his military reputation and all that—as much as he could for a long time, but there was another suitor whom the girl seemed to prefer,

and he—this poor fellow told me—

was at least a decent man—had held

the field all to himself before my man appeared.

"However, he was beginning to think that, with the help of the girl's parents and one thing and another, he would end by winning her. Then the turquoise warned him again. It was turning pale once more.

"You see, he couldn't interpret it that he was going to lose this girl whom he loved, because he hadn't won

yet. So he came to the conclusion that the palekness of the turquoise must mean so great a calamity that he could not guess at. And that led him to give up the girl and leave her to his rival. He could not bear the thought, he said, of taking her with him into trouble. Don't you think it was a splendidly unselfish thing to do?

"Well, his cousin married the other man soon after, and my poor fellow actively congratulated himself that his cousin would be happy, no matter what became of him. But I believe that the evil that threatened him was simply his old enemy—drink. Perhaps, in the bottom of his heart, he dreaded making her the wife of a drunkard.

"After that he went back to India,

and, being, I suppose, heartbroken really and despondent, he was turned out of the army in spite of all his good service in the past. Then he drifted to Singapore and from there to Hongkong, where he got a mercantile position. When the demon of drink still pursued him relentlessly in the east,

he came to this country.

"But the remarkable thing about it to me—outside of the poor chap's congratulating himself that he had been saved from making his cousin's life wretched—the remarkable thing was that the turquoise always kept pale—

never got back color after he ran away

to avoid marrying his cousin and then got into trouble in India. I believe that the paleness of that confounded stone was what hounded him to ruin."

When my chance acquaintance told me this, I could not help asking him whether the turquoise had regained its</

H. H. GRANICE - EDITOR

The Republican members of the Legislature went into caucus last Thursday night to select a candidate for United States Senator with the following fruitless result after six ballots had been taken: Bard 19, Barham 2, Barnes 3, Bulla 8, Burns 31, Grant 11, Paterson 2, Scott 8, Gillette 1. Another caucus was held last night, but up to the hour of going to press the result was not known. The chances are, however, that there was no choice.

For the sake of harmony in the party and to keep California in the McKinley column Judge Barham of this county ought to be the choice of the caucus. He is the only aspirant for Senatorial honors thus far named who it seems to us would be acceptable to the different factions in this Senatorial squabble, and, what is more, he would make a Senator whom California would be proud of.

SONOMA is a-booming. Within the past six months two new stores and a millinery establishment have been added to the business houses of the town. Another physician has also located here. Now comes a new drug store, which will be open for business in a week or two in Adler's building opposite the Postoffice. These will about fill all the business requirements of the town for some time yet to come if we except a harness shop.

An editor who had just returned from lodge writes: "To gain admission to this castle hall, advance to the outer door and give three raps. If necessary, kick the door down. The devil will admit you, when you will advance to the editor's desk, mention the number of years you are owing for the paper and inquire in a hoarse whisper, 'Are you looking for me?' At the same time you will extend your left hand holding a ten-dollar bill. The editor will give the bill the proper grip and whisper, 'You bet.' You will then be permitted to retire."—Ex.

STATE SENATOR SIMS has given out that immediately after the adjournment of the Legislature he will take up his residence in San Francisco where he will resume the practice of law. The many friends of the Senator in this county will regret to learn of his leave-taking. He is one of the most popular men in Sonoma county, however, does not offer the same advantages to an ambitious lawyer as the metropolis.

THE State Board of Examiners has rejected Sonoma county's claim against the State for $28,000 for the maintenance of orphans and half orphans the past twenty years. The Board claimed the bill was not a valid one against the State and was barred by the statutes of limitation any how.

The weather the past six weeks has been the most disagreeable ever experienced in this valley. The same may be said of the whole State, as no section seems to have escaped the cold, foggy and sunless days of December and January.

VALUABLE FIND.

Coal Discovered on the Dr. O'Donnell Place.

What is thought to be a valuable coal deposit has been discovered on Dr. C. C. O'Donnell's ranch near Glen Ellen. The doctor will thoroughly prospect his find which shows excellent croppings. It has long been known that coal existed in this valley and some prospecting has been done, particularly on the Malone place near Eldridge, but in every case the discoverers became disgusted and quit. Dr. O'Donnell, however, will spare no expense to develop his find and as he is a stayer, who knows but what coal will yet become one of the products of this diversified valley.

Chinese New Year.

The mongolians of this town have been whooping 'em up in great shape the past week in honor of their New Year. Exploding bombs and fire-crackers have made things lively in the Chinese quarter, the San Ti Lung and Charley Hoy laundries being the center of hostilities.

REMAINS OF SENATOR ENOS.

WILL BE ORDERED BURIED BY JUDGE BURNETT.

They Have Reposed in the Receiving Vault for Two Years.

It is now nearly two years since the contest over the possession of the remains of ex-State Senator Enos was commenced in the Superior Court of this county. The Senator, just previous to his death, which was very sudden, willed his remains to Mrs. R. J. Snyder. The widow and daughter of deceased immediately commenced proceedings to break that clause of the will and thus secure possession of the body, which had been placed in Mrs. Snyder's family vault.

The decision was finally rendered, Judge Burnett holding that a man could not legally will his body away. Mrs. Enos and her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Willis, then secured possession of the remains and when the funeral took place from the residence of the former, in compliance with an edict from the court, the remains were placed temporarily in the public receiving vault in Mountain Cemetery to await a decision from the Supreme Court, to which tribunal Mrs. Snyder had taken an appeal. This was nearly two years ago and the case is still pending.

Complaint was made to the City Trustees last week that the casket containing the remains of the dead Senator was defective, and requesting that something be done in the matter. President Duhring of the City Trustees thereupon wrote Judge Burnett to modify his order and sanction the interment of the remains.

The Judge instructed President Duhring to notify the opposing counsel to provide a new casket, else he would order the remains buried. This Mr. Duhring has done and it is understood that a new casket will take the place of the old one and that the remains will continue to repose in the public receiving vault until a decision is reached by the Supreme Court.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia. SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.

HO! FOR HUMBOLDT.

The California Northwestern to be Extended.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railway Company held its annual meeting and election of officers and directors Monday. As the company is operated under a lease by the California Northwestern Railway Company, no report of earnings and expenditures were submitted.

The California Northwestern does not hold its annual meeting until March. At that time it will probably have finished surveys for a line it is to build. One survey for a line has been completed from Cloverdale on the San Francisco and North Pacific west sixty miles. Another survey has been made for a similar distance west from Hopland. A third survey is being made from Ukiah north for a distance of sixty-three miles.

When all the surveying data is presented to them President Foster and his associates will select the most feasible route. It is estimated that the proposed new line will cost $30,000 a mile and will add at least $200,000 a year to the earnings of the San Francisco and North Pacific.

JUDGMENT AFFIRMED.

Lawyer Rodgers of Petaluma Wins the High School Case.

On Tuesday Attorney John P. Rodgers of Petaluma received notice from the Clerk of the Supreme Court that the judgment of the Superior Court in the case of Swafford vs. the Petaluma Board of Education had been affirmed by the Supreme Court, says the Argus. Swafford brought suit against the Board of Education for $5000 damages on account of his removal as principal of the Petaluma High School. Previous to his removal Swafford was asked in a written communication from a member of the Board to reinstate an expelled pupil.

Swafford's public comments on the note caused a breach between himself and the Board. Charges were preferred and he was removed from his position. He then brought suit.

Judgment was rendered by Judge Dougherty in favor of the Board.

Attorney John P. Rodgers represented the Board throughout the long litigation. He was pitted against a firm of skilled San Francisco lawyers, reinforced by several Oakland attorneys.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES.

In department one of the Superior Court on Monday Judge W. R. Daingerfield presided by request of Judge Dougherty. The calendar matters were as follows:

The will of the late Robert T. Mitchell of Windsor was admitted to probate and W. J. Mitchell was appointed executor in a bond of $27,000.

The estate of Mary Wells was assigned to her surviving husband, John Wells.

Supervisor H. W. Austin was appointed executor of the will of the late Mrs. Anna Austin in a bond of $2,500.

A petition to sell personal property of the estate of Samuel Larri-son was granted.

The final account was settled and distribution of the estate of A. Johnson was ordered. A similar order was made in the estate of Giuseppe Rasella.

A return of sale of real estate was confirmed in the estate of Giacomina Gianella. The matter of the settlement of the second annual account was continued to February 5th, as well as the petition for partial distribution.

These probate matters were continued to February 5th: Estates of Edward S. Brown, Sarah P. F. Moore, Albert Soldate, James McCausland and L. D. Boyce.

The demurrer was sustained and five days was allowed to amend in the action of M. E. Rafael vs. Wm. Ross. The motion to strike out was dismissed without prejudice.

The action of the California Wine Makers' Corporation vs. F. Schmidt was continued to February 12th.

The case of Bocca vs. Quien was continued one week.

In the action of the Charles W. Pike company and others, the petition to inspect the books and accounts of defendants was granted. This is an action in which the plaintiff claims damages for breach of contract and for commissions on fruit sales.

When Judge Burnett took his seat in department two he was confronted by the smallest calendar on record. There was only one matter on the calendar and that was the damage suit of W. J. Johnson against the California Northwestern railroad, and that was continued by stipulation to February 12th. The court then adjourned. Later the court set aside the order setting the date of the trial of the action of Pitt vs. O'Connor, and the matter was continued to February 5th to be set.

Madam P. Chamberlin and infant son, after a stay in Sonoma of over three months, took Thursday's train for San Francisco.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In the cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. WITHOUT AN INSTANT'S WARNING.

A Workman on the Sartori Ranch Stricken Deaf and Dumb.

An Italian, employed on Victor Sartori's ranch at Fairville, was stricken deaf and dumb without an instant's warning on Thursday afternoon of last week.

Up to that day the man was apparently in good health if we except a slight attack of rheumatism which affected one of his arms. When stricken he was engaged in conversing with a fellow workman. His lips continued to move but gave forth no sound. This surprised his companion and when he addressed the unfortunate man he was amazed that he paid no attention to him, but continued to move his voiceless lips. It then dawned upon the astonished workman that his companion had been stricken deaf and dumb. This he made known to the afflicted man by signs.

The unfortunate Italian was brought to town last Saturday by Victor Sartori and left the next day for San Francisco where he is being treated in one of the hospitals of that city.

El Laurel.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Rodehaver of El Laurel were in town Tuesday. Mr. Rodehaver reports that the wet, damp and foggy weather of the past two months has greatly retarded farming operations in the vicinity of El Laurel, but for all that he has succeeded in plowing and seeding a part of his extensive farm. At the present time he has a force of men at work setting up a large boiler and engine, which will be used to run a grist mill which he has already erected. He also contemplates the building of a large creamery on his place, which is admirably located for such an enterprise.

John Lounibos is engaged in remodeling the brick block in El Verano, which he recently purchased from the Pacific Improvement Company, and will open it up as a summer resort. The building originally cost $10,000 and is a handsome and commodious structure and well adapted for a public resort.

Mrs. Mary Nevroumont, owner of the El Verano Villa which was destroyed by fire last Sunday night, carried an insurance of $2000 in the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company. This amount has been promptly paid by this old reliable company and the madame will at once commence the erection of a $5000 structure to take the place of the old one.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Hermine, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application relieves the pain. For sale by F. Duhring.

By reference to notice in another column it will be seen that Marcy & Dunbar, plumbers and hardware dealers, have dissolved partnership, Mr. Marcy retiring. The business will hereafter be conducted by Mr. Dunbar, who assumes all obligations and collects outstanding accounts. Mr. Marcy has been engaged by Mr. Dunbar to attend to the plumbing business of the establishment and will therefore remain with us. We bespeak for Mr. Dunbar a share of the public patronage.

A SUBURBAN FIRE.

EL VERANO VILLA BURNED TO THE GROUND.

Loss About $5,000—Insurance $2,000.

A defective flue, a sudden burst of flame and the mad rush of the inmates of El Verano Villa, at half-past twelve o'clock last Sunday night, and a smouldering mass of ruins a few minutes thereafter, told the tale of one of the quickest conflagrations ever recorded in this valley. At the above hour the guests at El Verano Villa some half a dozen in number, were aroused from their slumbers by a sudden burst of flame. They had barely time to pick up a few articles of wearing apparel and make their escape from the burning building, so amazingly rapid was the spread of the flames.

Mrs. Mary Nevroumont, the owner of the villa, had a narrow escape from being burned to death. She did not awake until almost surrounded with flames. She preserved her presence of mind, however, and hastily picking up a heavy blanket threw it over her shoulders and made her exit out of the burning building amid flying cinders and a cloud of smoke.

Little or nothing was saved as it was all the inmates could do to escape with their lives.

El Verano Villa was located and built several years ago on the west side of Sonoma creek near the Maxwell place. It was a popular resort for the French colony of San Francisco and was largely patronized during the spring and summer months. The villa had lately been newly painted and completely renovated.

The villa belonged to Mrs. Mary Nevroumont and with its furniture and fixtures was valued at $5,000. This loss, it is understood, is covered with an insurance of $2,000. The cause of the fire was a defective flue.

The villa will be immediately rebuilt as it was one of the paying properties in this valley.

THE PASSING OF AN EX-RESIDENT.

Mrs. Sadie Brown Dies Suddenly in Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Sadie Brown, wife of Wm. Brown formerly of this place but now proprietor of the Occidental barber shop, Santa Rosa, died very suddenly at her home in that city last Saturday night shortly after 12 o'clock. The Press-Democrat says Mrs. Brown had been ailing on and off for some time and for two or three days preceding her death had complained of severe pain at times. Early in the evening (Saturday) she was bright and cheerful and gave no indication of being so near death's door. About twenty-five minutes to 12 o'clock she was seized with a sinking spell and died shortly after.

Mrs. Brown resided in this place for a number of years and had many friends here. She was a devout Christian and a member of Rose Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. Deceased leaves a son, residing in Chicago, and a husband who was devotedly attached to her.

Death of a Pioneer Resident.

John Raper, for over forty-seven years a resident of Sonoma, died in Santa Rosa last Saturday, after an illness of several weeks. Deceased, who was a single man, came to California from Holland as a seaman before the mast in the early fifties. A year or two after his arrival in San Francisco he followed a seafaring life on a schooner plying between San Francisco and Embarcadero. Later on he engaged in teaming, being in the employ of the late Mike Donahue of Embarcadero for many years. Of late years he has been kindly looked after by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weyl of this place, from whose residence his funeral took place Monday. The deceased was a native of Holland and aged 62 years.

CALIFORNIA HOME.

THE STATE PURCHASES THE MALONE RANCH.

The Home Now Possesses More Land Than Any Other Public Institution in the World.

The Malone ranch of six hundred acres, adjoining the seventeen hundred acre farm of the California Home at Eldridge, has been purchased by the State. The Home now embraces a magnificent domain of 23,000 acres, the largest tract of land owned by any public institution in the world. This land to a great extent will be cultivated by the inmates many of whom, although weak in mind, are strong of body. The broad acres surrounding the Home embraces wooded glens, picturesque canyons, lovely little valleys and commanding heights. It is an ideal spot and a possession of which the State can well feel proud. The brick kiln on the new purchase will be opened and the work of making brick will be commenced as soon as possible. The brick will be used in erecting a number of cottages for epileptics, as the present accommodations are inadequate for that class of the State's charges.

The Malone place was secured by the State at a great bargain.

Laid to Rest in Mountain Cemetery.

The funeral of Wm. Taylor, the colored man, whose remains were buried in Valley Cemetery at the expense of the county on Thursday of last week and subsequently disinterred, took place Saturday. The funeral services were held in Union Hall under the auspices of the Sonoma Athletic Club of which deceased was a member. The floral offerings were both profuse and handsome and the remains were followed to the cemetery by the members of the club and citizens on foot and in carriages. They were laid to rest in Mountain Cemetery.

The Queen Ranch.

Walter L. Dean has commenced suit in the Superior Court of this county against Wm. B. Read, administrator of the estate of W. D. Queen, who died in this place ten or twelve years ago. The action is brought to quiet title to the Queen ranch located north of Agua Caliente. Plaintiff alleges in his complaint that neither defendant or the estate of Queen has any title or interest in the property.

Death of John Gaffney.

John Gaffney, for many years a resident of this place, but who removed with his family to San Francisco eight or ten years ago, died in that city Monday. The remains were shipped to this place for interment and were laid to rest in the Catholic Cemetery on Wednesday. The deceased leaves a widow and six children to mourn his loss, to-wit: Annie, John, William and David Gaffney and Mrs. P. Slavin and Mrs. P. Stein. He was a native of Ireland and aged 65 years.

Bicycle vs. Horse.

The velocity of a wheel over that of a trotting horse was clearly demonstrated last Tuesday afternoon on Broadway when Bert Jones on his wheel beat G. S. Harri's trotter. The race was for a quarter of a mile, and young Jones won by ten lengths.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an ancient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. T. Edwards, Publisher of The Review, Wauwat, Ill. For sale by F. Duhring.

Rope Walking at Niagara.

The man who wanted to walk across Niagara Falls on a rope, in imitation of a famous rope-walker, was wisely restrained by the authorities. Probably he is thankful that such was the case. Death comes soon enough, without risking life needlessly. Take the ills of disease for example. Common ailments like constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria and nervousness, do much to shorten life. There is a medicine that will cure these, if taken faithfully and in time, and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Set the stomach right and good health is sure to follow. This peerless remedy has a record of over fifty years of cures to back it up. Use it regularly, and all these diseases will be eradicated, and health and vitality take their place. When in need of a medicine of this kind, get the old reliable Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, with a Private Revenue Stamp over neck of bottle.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars reward for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
